

I do not think NJ's "Do Not Call" list should be weakened to allow business to call previous customers about more business. If I want another product I will call. I would not want to be harassed with a business's "monthly promotion."